Training and Realising Innovations in Internationalisation at Home Pedagogies
NEWSLETTER NO. 6: Spring Semester 2024

Dear Reader,

In this newsletter, we provide updates on the in-person TRIP Project event that took place at the University of Matej Bel in Slovakia in March 2024. The event was hosted by Prof. Dr Katarina Chovancova and the Matej Bel team and was attended by representatives from all of the TRIP partners.

The focus of the in-person event was on the core theme of inclusion and it created opportunities to review the project outputs, and in particular the design of the TRIP Institutional Self-Evaluation Quality Assurance Framework and Toolkit that was being developed to enable the TRIP institutions to review, benchmark and monitor their Internationalisation at Home Practices and to explore ways in which they could be enhanced to better align them to United Nations' Sustainable Development

Goal 4 which speaks to 'ensuring equitable access to quality education for all'.

The key outcomes of the event was that it was decided that the framework and operationalisation model we were developing in order to implement inclusive Internationalisation at Home needed to operate at both top-down and bottom-up levels to ensure maximum uptake and embedding of the more inclusive practices we sought to develop across all aspects of university life, but that there also needed to be flexibility to allow for the various systems and norms that were in operation in the individual TRIP partner institutions. It was also decided that the new framework and accompanying toolkit would be piloted by the University of Limerick and the University of Matej Bel over the following months in order to test the efficiency and quality of the outputs.
